King's Mkt. Lose To Hicks

Hick's Market came up with six runs in the top of the seventh to beat Kings Market 13-8 last Wednesday night in a Class "A" softball game in Lynchburg.

Hick's got off to a 2-0 lead in the first and then added one each in the second, third and fourth before Kings also scored in the fourth and the score was 5-1, Hick's got two more in the fifth for a 7-1 lead. In the sixth King's exploded for 7 runs to take an 8-7 lead as they took advantage of an error and got six hits. The roof fell in in the top of the seventh when Hick's scored six more runs on five hits and three errors for the win.

Richard Daniels led Hick's Market with four hits and scored four runs. He was followed by Donald Lambert, D. Moses and C. Martin each with three hits. Toots Carter and H. Barns each had two hits as their team banged out 18 hits.

Billy Thompson led King's Mkt. with three hits and he was followed by Alvin Phelps, Orie Millner and Boogie Whitehead with two hits each. They got 13 hits and left six men on base.

King's is now 1-3 for the second half and Hick's is undefeated with a 5-0 mark. Jimmy Cash was the winning pitcher and Eddie Gunter was the loser.

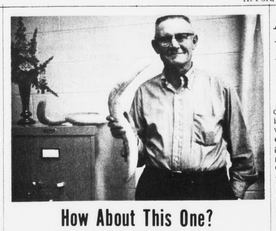
Medicare Has Twin Benefits

According to Social Security records there are many persons 65 years of age or older who are not enrolled for both parts of Medicare, the health insurance system for older people. Medicare includes hospital insurance which helps pay bills, and medical insurance which helps pay for doctor's services.

A general enrollment period of medical insurance under the Federal Medicare plan ends March 31, 1970. Persons 65 and over who have not already enrolled for this part of Medicare that helps pay doctor's bills should enroll now. Coverage will be effective July 1, 1970, for persons who enroll on or before March 31, 1970.

A person 65 or over may enroll during the first three months of any year provided this period begins with three years after he had his first opportunity enroll.

For further information concerning Medicare enrollment, or other parts of the Social Security law, contact your nearest Social Security Office. The Lynchburg, Virgina, office is located at 2600 Memorial Avenue in Room 101 of the Tarkington Building. You may write, phone or visit. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 847-8856.



How About This One?

After reading about a 16 inch cucumber in last week's Times-Virginian, C. R. Wooten went down to his garden near the Appomattox-Buckingham line and brought back a 22 inch cucumber plus another one almost as long. In his acre and a half garden space he has October beans, six rows of sweet potatoes and many other garden sweet vegetables plus, of course, these unusually long cucumbers. For the Wootens and many others, welcome rains will help bring in many a garden harvest that might well have been written off if the June-July drought had continued.

velopment of artificial breeding associations and the improvement of dairy and beef herds. The artificial breeding association at Rocky Mt. which he was largely instrumental in establishing has since expanded and similar associations now are found both in the north and south encompassing a multi - state area.

He is married to the former (Margaret) Ruth Glenn of Prospect, Va., the father of two sons, Dan and Gene and grandfather of five, one grandson and four granddaughters.

His contributions to church and civic affairs are numerous. He is a member of the Hebron Baptist Church, a deacon and past superintendent of the Sunday School.

He is a member and past master of Masonic Lodge 233, past president of the Lions Club of Rocky Mount; past president and past district Governor of Ruritan National. He is an active member of the Oakville Ruritan Club.

He is also a member of the Board of Directors of Farmers National Bank, Appomattox. In addition, he serves on the board of directors, Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce.

In partnership with his son, Dan, he owns and operates a 500 acre dairy farm. An early riser, he is used to helping with the milking or other early-morning chores before setting out on the busy schedule necessary to maintain a 16-county network of extension work.

Mr. Carson says that his co-workers gave him "enough fishing tackle for the rest of my life." He says that he is looking forward to working on the farm, which he loves, and the "chance to go fishing as often as I feel like it."

Social Security

Send your questions to: Questions and Answers, Social Security Office, P. O. Box 2496, Lynchburg, Va. 24501.

Q – We receives the social security lump - sum death payment when a worker dies?

A – A spouse who was living with the worker has first priority. When the deceased is not survived by such a spouse, the payment is made to the person or persons paying the funeral expenses. When the burial expenses have not been paid, the person assuming responsibility may authorize the payment to be made to the funeral home. If no one assumes responsibility for the burial expenses, the funeral director may apply for it.

Q – My brother recently died and due to my employment I am unable to call at the Social Security Office. How can I file for the lump - sum death payment without missing a day's work?

A – Phone your social security office in Lynchburg. The telephone number is 847-8856. An application can be completed over the telephone and mailed to you for your signature.

Q – I am planning to hire a babysitter. I don't understand what I have to do to report her earnings for Social Security. Will you explain this?

A – Cash wages of $50 or more paid in a callendar quarter to a household worker are covered by Social Security. Currently, the social security tax is 9.6% - one-half of this amount to be paid by you and the other by your employee. At the end of each quarter, you send a report of the total tax paid, the employee's name and social security number and the tax due to Internal Revenue Service. Write to Internal Revenue Service Center, 11601 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa., 19155 for reporting forms and complete instructions.

Acreage Diversion Sought

Feed grain and wheat producers who sign up and divert into a conserving use acreage which normally would be planted to wheat, corn, grain sorghum or barley will benefit the general public, the farm economy, and themselves, according to J. P. Alvis, Jr., Chairman of the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"Excess production is a threat not only to farmers for whom it means lower prices, but to the public. Consumers and taxpayers – which means all of us – benefit when crop production and farm prices are stable and when excess grain is not allowed to pile up in costly storage year after year," Mr. Alvis said.

Aims of these farm programs he said, are to insure an ample supply of grain for domestic and export markets, strengthen and stabilize farm prices and deter excess production.

To help prevent excess grain production, the 1970 feed grain minimum acreage diversion on each participating farm, and also so-called "set aside" acres to earn payments by additional diversion. No payment is earned on the required diversion except by those who qualify for 'small farm' provisions of the programs.

Changes In Farm Storage Facility Loan Program

Several changes have been made in the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program under which farmers may borrow funds for construction on farm storage structures and purchase of drying equipment. J. P. Alvis, Jr., Chairman of the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, said the changes should help expand on-farm storage and drying capability and should permit more orderly marketing and improved returns.

The period of farm production used in determining storage structure needs for loan purposes has been extended to two years compared with one year's production previously used, Mr. Alvis said.

The changes include an increase in the maximum amount producers can borrow for dryer loans to 85% of the net cost up to $5,000. This compares with the previous rate of 65% up to $2,500.

The interest rate on the loans has been increased to a 7 1/2 % annual rate, compared to a previous annual rate of 6%. The Chairman added also that essential in-storage operating equipment may be included in a loan made for storage and drying equipment.

Changes in the loan program have been made as the result of a review announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture last December, Mr. Alvis said. Further information on the loan program and applications are available from County ASCS Offices.

Mapping Virginia's Development

Outside of some of the State's business and industrial leaders, we daresay very little is known about a spectacular accomplishment in which all Virginia may take tremendous pride: The Commonwealth is in the lead among 35 states cooperating with the Federal government to have available by 1977 more detailed topographic maps of the entire continental United States.

Marvin M. Sutherland, Director, Department of Conservation and Economic Development, reports that this accelerated mapping program of the State's Division of Mineral Resources was begun in 1962 with the full support of the Governor and General Assembly. At present, 79 percent of Virginia is covered by the new topographic map series, and 100 percent coverage is expected by mid-1972. When this is achieved, Virginia will be first among the states for availability of more modern and detailed topographic maps.

Why are detailed topographic maps needed? How are they used? They are vitally necessary as a starting point in many phases of the State's development, such as planning; selection of sites for industrial location; highways; airports; locating of communications facilities, radio and TV towers and repeater stations; routing pipe and other transmission lines; selecting dam sites and subdivision areas; pursuing outdoor sporting developments and hiking; geologic and hydrologic research; mineral investigations; studies of water quantity and quality of water, and the study and application of flood control, soil conservation, and reforestation measures.

As a recent dramatic example, topographic maps made in the rescue of Virginia flood victims in the wake of hurricane Camille when hundreds of maps of the James River basin were provided for rescue authorities by the State's Division of Mineral Resources. These maps were helpful also in assessment of property damage in flood-ravaged areas.

This new topographic mapping program is financed jointly by the State and Federal governments. Virginia has invested tal of $220,000 of State funds with more than $4,000,000 in the pro- be needed during the next biennium since 1962. An equal amount ium to complete the program, for in matching funds was provided which the Federal government by the Federal government. A to- will provide matching funds.

This project is a investment in the Co present and future

Raindrops and umbrellas were much in evidence at the beginning of a European tour for Mrs. Rachel F. Lawson (second from right) and four friends from Lynchburg, photographes on the Lawson porch Thursday morning just prior to airplane departure from Richmond to Dulles Airport and then Paris, France by overnight jet. The group, including (from left): Miss Edna Johnston, Mrs. Brady Pettyjohn, Mrs. James Homes, Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Raymond Reynolds, will spend three weeks in France, England, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Austria, including a visit to the Passion play in the village of Oberammergau.

Pankey-Bartlett Wedding

The wedding of Miss Gail Lorraine Bartlett and Walton Lewis Pankey took place on June 27 at 2:00 p.m. at the Linwood Community Church, Linwood, N. J.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Bill Bartlett of Linwood, N. J. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Pankey of Appomattox.

The Reverend William Conover, pastor of the church, officiated.

A program of wedding music was provided by Mrs. Russell Doughty, organist of Linwood, N. J. and Mrs. James Hutchins, soloist.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a slipper length gown of white silk organza over peau de soie, designed with an empire waist and a high Victorian neckline and long cuffed Bishop sleeves. Her bouffant veil of silk organza was attached to a seed pear crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of Shasta daisies, white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Debbie Givens of Alexandria, Virginia was maid of honor. She wore a slipper length dress of coral chiffon over taffeta, fashioned with an empire bodice and an A-line skirt with back fullness of unpressed pleats. Venice lace in white encircled the waistline. She carried a bouquet of coral pom poms, daisies and carnations.

Other attendants were Miss Carol Bartlett, sister of the bride. She wore a slipper length dress of yellow chiffon over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of yellow pom poms, carnations and daisies. Miss Connie Sue Bass, cousin of the bride wore a slipper length dress of lavender chiffon over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of lavender pom poms, carnations and daisies.

Mr. Pankey was his son's best man. Groomsmen were James Hutchins of Linwood, N. J. and W. Glenn Martin of Charlotte Court House, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bartlett of Linwood, N. J., uncle and aunt of the bride were hosts for a reception in their home following the ceremony.

The bride attends Radford College.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Appomattox High School and is attending V.P.I. in Blacksburg.

The couple is living in Blacksburg.

Those attending the wedding from this area were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewis Pankey of Appomattox; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Martin of Charlotte Court House and Mrs. L. Page Petty of Red House.
